

A mosaic illustration depicting the Transfiguration of Christ. Jesus, on the left, is shown with a halo, wearing a brown robe with blue and white stripes, and sandals. He is gesturing with his right hand towards a bright, golden light emanating from a cloud. Two women, Mary and Elizabeth, stand on the right, looking up at the light. Mary is wearing a white robe with a red headscarf, and Elizabeth is wearing a brown robe. The background is a mosaic of white and grey tiles, with a golden light emanating from a cloud. The overall style is reminiscent of Byzantine or Orthodox iconography.
